TRYING TO KILL AUSTRIAN OFFICERS

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Aug. 23.—An official dispatch from Switzerland today says that attempts against the lives of officers are increasing in Austria. It is reported that several commandants of the Austrian Corps have advised officers in the rear to have revolvers with them always.

(Latest—2.30 P. M.)
(By Associated Press)—Along the front in Northern Picardy the battle which seems to be one of the greatest of the war has developed.

The disaster is reported as threatening the whole German Army on this front, and the Germans are throwing great masses of men into the struggle in the hope of checking the tide of battle which dispatches from British headquarters say is setting against them.

(By the Associated Press)
British and German Armies are locked in a mighty battle today over a twenty-five mile front from Liébaux six miles south of the Somme river to the Coteul south of Arras. This combat, which began with the British attack against the enemy positions east of the Ancre River on Wednesday, has now spread into one of the greatest battles of the allied offensive in Picardy. It is officially reported from London that the British are making progress at some points, and that German attacks east of Beaucourt at about the middle of the battle front were repulsed. The British are apparently still on the aggressive along the whole line. French troops have occupied the southern bank of the Oise and the Ailette between Sempringy south of Noyon to the railroad bridge west of Concy near Chateau. South of Concy near Chateau they have reached the outskirts of Gony and Pont-St-Mard. This progress brings them still further toward the rear of the German forces holding the hill north of Soissons and within three miles of the German position north of Chemin des Dames as they stood before the offensive of May 27th.

With the French armies on the line, by the A. P.—To the west of Arras the Germans are north of the Oise except those that are hiding in fields and thickets, dead or prisoners. It is impossible to estimate the number of captives being sent to Paris in the rear, and Army Headquarters itself does not have more than an approximate count. Only a partial count has been made at Douly which includes at least two hundred guns. In their retreat across the Oise the Germans did not have time to destroy the bridges. Batteries of guns and ammunition, wagons with the horses on the gallop were pushing north today through an immense dust cloud over the field where yesterday the German's rear guard fought desperately to save part of their artillery. Many of the guns had to be left behind as well as a great number of machine guns. "The devil himself could not hold out against all that," said the captured Germans. "We did not know which way to turn."

JUST DAVID

By ELEANOR H. TORTER
Author of "Pollyanna"
Ten year old David and his father (a famous violinist) lived on a mountain, with the woods, the wild things and their two violins. Then a change came and David was left to the care of gruff farmer folk in whom the warmth of kindness was buried deep. But "Just David" brought music and sunshine into many lives and played a part in a very pretty romance.

The day following, in the forenoon, when they were 11 miles off Winter Quarters shoal, the dismantled hull of a large schooner was sighted. The same day at 4 p. m. seven miles east of Five Patience bank lightship, a large, masted, sunken schooner was passed. ## TWO MEN BURNED BY EXPLOSION

An Atlantic Port, Aug. 23.—An explosion of $500,000 of gasoline Thursday badly damaged the auxiliary fishing schooner, Geoffredo De Costa, and caused injuries to two of her crew of 19 men. William White who was in the cabin of the vessel was blown up through the companion way to the deck, landing against the wheel with terrible force. He was removed to a hospital, where physicians said he had a chance of recovery, although his condition was serious. The engineer, Leo Dwyer, who was in the engine room when the gasoline blew up, was thrown against the wall and knocked unconscious, but regained his senses a few hours later without any bad injuries to show for his experience. The others of the crew who were on deck were not hurt.

The schooner had just finished filling her tanks when the engine, smelling the gas in her engine room, he rushed below to put out the kerosene lamp, which was kept hanging there but was too late. The schooner was beached while fireboats fought the flames.

HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT

The Rockingham County Farm Bureau has secured the necessary financial assistance from the State College to largely finance a Home Demonstration Agent for Rockingham County, but does not wish to start this work unless the women of the county are interested and willing to assume part of the responsibility for its local direction. The women of the county interested in any phase of Home Economics work are invited to attend a county-wide meeting to be held in Smith Hall, Exeter, N. H., on Thursday, Aug. 29th, at 2:00 p. m., and discuss this matter with the other women of the county, the Farm Bureau officers and representatives of the College and Federal Department of Agriculture.

The emergency conditions resulting from the war have emphasized the importance to the nation of the people of the county being well organized and co-operating in the employ of county leaders to help work out many old and new problems connected with the farm, the home and the community. The National Congress recognized this fact early in the war by increasing the regular peace time appropriations to be used in co-operation with the State Agricultural Colleges and the County Farm Bureau Associations in employing County Agricultural Agents and County Home Demonstration Agents. Home Demonstration work has been carried on in Cheshire, Sullivan and Merrimack Counties for nearly two years in co-operation with the New Hampshire College and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This work is now beyond experimental stage, and has been so successful that the College and Department of Agriculture are now ready to co-operate with the Farm Bureaus in as many of the other counties as are interested in securing regular Home Demonstration Agents.

A Commendable Arrangement

The United States is now in the war to an extent which makes the casualty lists mean something, although these are very small in proportion to the number of troops engaged. But as the war proceeds and the American forces are increased the lists will be extended, and, unwelcome as the news will be, the people will want it without needless delay.

There will consequently be satisfaction in the arrangements that have been made for giving out the news. The plan of giving out only partial lists at a time proved wholly unsatisfactory, but under the new arrangement the complete list will be published daily, though the news will necessarily be a few days late.

The plan is to have the news supplied by telegraph to Washington, Chicago and San Francisco, from which cities copies will be sent by mail to all of the papers, to be published simultaneously by them after all have had time to receive the news. This is why it will be a little late when published, but it seems the best that can be done under the circumstances, and with the information coming regularly from day to day the public will be satisfied. The lists will be divided equally between morning and evening papers so that all will be treated alike, and nothing could be fairer than this. Relatives of men killed, wounded or missing will be notified immediately by telegraph from the War Department.

There is reason to believe that this arrangement will prove entirely satisfactory to the public. The people are intensely interested in the progress of the war and they want to know what is happening as soon as it is possible to do so. The information regarding casualties will now be supplied promptly and fully, and while this will necessarily be of a distressing character, it is better that the worst should be known as soon as it can be known.

It is now fully realized that the country is at war, and everybody knows what war means. The people understand that grave sacrifices are to be made and are prepared to make them in behalf of principles dear to the hearts of all lovers of liberty. With the knowledge that they are to have the truth as soon as it is possible to present it to them they will bear their burdens more cheerfully and courageously than they otherwise could.

The War Department is to be commended for taking the step it has taken with reference to this matter. It meets a legitimate demand of the public, which has a right to know all that may be made known without advantaging the enemy, and the action taken leaves no room for criticism or for suspicion that the authorities are withholding information to which the public is entitled.

Simultaneously with the announcement of plans to speed up the output of the coal mines comes another that the fuel situation in New England next winter looks like a "tight fit." But New England patience with this sort of thing cannot be guaranteed. With a year to prepare for the coming winter it is a question whether the people will regard another shortage as an emergency or as an evidence of official bungling.

Lovers of good racing will not overlook the program that has been prepared for the Rockingham County fair to be held the first three days in October. The purses offered are liberal and there will be some fast stepping both in the pacing and trotting classes. With favorable weather the event will be sure to attract a large attendance.

The sketches of local objects of historical interest now running in this paper are already attracting attention, as well they may. Few cities of the size of Portsmouth are so rich in local history of importance, and these sketches are designed to call the attention of visitors to matters in which many of them will be deeply interested.

The robbing of hen roosts in this vicinity has begun and will probably continue until some of the looters are apprehended. Then there will be a change of program. New Hampshire courts are not in the habit of dealing lightly with offenses of this character.

It looks as if there would have to be a change in the character of fish stories. In the past these have dealt chiefly with the size of the fish and the size of the catch, but now nothing startles the landlubber but a story of a hairbreadth escape from a U-boat.

A private writes from the front that Germany started this war and that the United States will finish it. And even President Wilson could not put the truth more neatly in a nutshell.

If General von Boehn makes any slips in his specialty of retreating some of the uncultured Americans will be calling him a Boehnhead.

The wedding of Cornelius W. Healy and Miss Jennie Reynolds was solemnized at 1st. Raphael's church, Manchester, the pastor, Rev. Albert Lang, officiating. The couple were attended by Miss Helen Reynolds sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, and Private Jerome Healy of Camp Devens, brother of the groom, as best man. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends.

A military touch was given the ceremony by the presentation of a service kit to the best man by the groom. The bridesmaid was presented a ruby ring. The bride wore a gown of white tulle with veil, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Catherine O'Brien, of 25 Hevey street, following the ceremony. An entertainment in the evening concluded the celebration. ## More Work at Boston

An order was received from the Navy Department Thursday which calls for the building of 1500 motor boats within six months at Charles-town navy yard. The boats are to be 24 feet long. This means that four boats must be turned out every working day. The yard is also very busy to build another fuel ship. One is already on the ways, but on account of war rush work only a small number of men have been kept employed on it. Two lighters are also to be built at the yard.

HISTORIC PORTSMOUTH

On Vaughan street is the Meserve house, built in 1700, and occupied by George Meserve, who, in 1765, was appointed stump agent for New Hampshire. He was in England at the time; but on his return, he found the excitement so great, that he immediately resigned the office. On his arrival in Portsmouth, his action, not being known, he was burnt in effigy on the

PLENTY OF SMOKE BUT NOT MUCH FIRE

Fireless Stove Starts Excitement in Cobbler Shop on Market Street.

The combination engine was called by a still alarm to No. 103 Market street on Thursday evening, to the former Thompson saloon, now occupied as a shoe repairing shop.

The firemen found lots of smoke and no fire. For a while they were puzzled but finally located the cause of the excitement which proved to be smoke coming down the chimney from the stove of a colored family living overhead. The shoemaker himself was puzzled when he got his lamps on the stove in his place which contained no fire and from which the smoke was coming freely. Between the Hebrew cobbler, the colored inmates upstairs and the firemen, the origin of the smoke was finally discovered and everybody was happy once more.

NEW ENGLAND BOYS NOW BACK OF LINES

March Says 26th Division Is Now Recuperating. Boys of 76th in Back Area Serving as a Depot Unit.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The 26th National Guard Division (New England) which participated in numerous attacks near Chateau-Thierry and which aided in the capture of the towns of Torcy and Belleau, was relieved from its position on the Marne front on July 22, and is now back of the lines for recuperation.

This announcement was made by Gen. March, chief of staff, at his conference with newspapermen today.

Answering further questions regarding individual divisions, Gen. March said the 76th Division (New England and New York National Army) now is serving as a depot division and is stationed in a back area. The 80th Division (Pennsylvania and Virginia National Army) is serving with the British in Flanders.

Thirty-two American divisions have arrived in France, Gen. March said. They are the 1st to 6th, inclusive, of Regulars; the 26th, 27th, 28th, 30th, 32d, 33d, 35th, 36th, 37th, 41st, and 42d National Guards; and the 76th to 83d inclusive, and the 85th, 89th, 90th, 91st, 92d and 93d National Armies.

Transportation of troops under the enlarged military program is dependent, in the main, upon the ability of the Government to secure adequate shipping, Gen. March frankly said.

While the Shipping Board's deliveries were constantly growing, more tonnage will have to be chartered and hired to carry out the present schedule.

Gen. March mentioned incidentally that Brazil had given the United States a vessel for two trips without compensation.

The Allies in engagements conducted this week, Gen. March said, have maintained their possession of the

LOCAL PEOPLE AT DURHAM MEETING

Many local people attended the patriotic field day gathering at New Hampshire state college on Thursday and the day's program was one filled with interest.

One of the objects of the gathering was to bring people of the state into closer touch with this state institution, and the soldiers in training at the college was one of the principal attractions.

The fine drilling of these soldiers, after only about six weeks of training was the subject of much favorable comment. These young men had come from the colleges, officers farms, factories and all walks of life, yet in this short time the drilling and army discipline had given them the appearance of trained regulars.

One of the many interesting sights was the meeting of the relatives with their husbands, sons or brothers in camp. The people came from all parts of the state by train, automobiles or carriages and the meetings of relatives with their loved ones in the army brought tears of joy to many.

It seemed as if all the home folks brought heaps of goodies to share with their boys in the service and it

R. L. McAll, who has lately returned from France, having been a Y. M. C. A. secretary with the French troops, will speak at the Methodist church on Sunday evening, telling some of his experiences overseas. He will illustrate his talk by stereoscopic views.

Mrs. William Lamson, wife of Major Lamson, U. S. A. and three children of Brooklyn, N. Y., have arrived to pass the remainder of the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew P. Wendell of South street. Major Lamson arrived in France some three weeks ago.

Charles M. Stearns of Dartmouth College, who is giving recitations from Kipling's war ballads and Lloyd Cable's "Hymn of Hate" before the enlisted men, was the entertainer at the U. S. S. Southern last evening and was heard with enthusiasm. This evening he will appear at the naval prison.

SHATTUCK'S WIN FROM Y. M. C. A.

2 TO 1

SUNSET LEAGUE STANDING.

Y. M. C. A.	4	11	.268
Army	3	12	.200

The Shattuck defeated the Y. M. C. A. in a well played and interesting game on Thursday evening and there were a great many in the crowd who rather thought that the Y. M. C. A. got the bad break of the decision, especially in the last inning. The Shattuck started Belger and he pitched a fine ball until the last of the fifth when two doubles, which scored one run sent him to the bench and Johnson was called and he failed to locate the plate for the next two men up and from the grand stand to the third man also.

Meehan played first base and he covered that bag in fine shape, while Deaudoin caught, Thompson played a fine game at short and Reed at first and McWilliams at second were there with the goods for the Y. M. C. A. Neither team scored in the opening inning, but in the second the Shattuck scored, Meehan opening with a single, Mitchell was out on a fly to Cragen, and a single by Deaudoin scored Meehan, Burgess and Slattery being retired.

The scored their second run in the third, Belger getting a single and going to third on Sorrotti's bad throw of Conlon's bunt and he scored on Dugan's out Thompson to Reed. In the fourth they got a man on with a single but a sharp double stopped scoring.

The Y. M. C. A. were unable to make any of their hits count until the fifth owing to rather poor base running and a double play in the first.

In the fifth Phillips made a two base hit, Pagel fled to left and McWilliams was thrown out by Belger, Cragen came through with a double, which scored Phillips, here Johnson was hit in the box and he passed Tronson and Smith who batted for Elie with the bases filled, Sorrotti looked as though he had been passed and Cragen ran home, but Jefferson called Sorrotti out on strikes, ending the game.

THINKS U-BOAT MEN ASHORE

Eastport, Me., Aug. 23.—Miss Wills Wilson, the 20-year-old daughter of Capt. Simon Wilson, one of the oldest and best known families of the small fishing village of Wilson's Beach, on the northeastern shores of Campobello Island, N. B., four miles from Eastport, tells a thrilling experience of being held up Tuesday evening by two armed strangers, who wore blue uniforms, blue caps with white visors, white collars and had on long linen dusters.

One man was smooth-faced, the other having a mustache. Each carried a large revolver. The two strangers stated that if she furnished the information required, she would receive any amount of money, and if later she told of their meeting she would be hot on sight.

They asked her how far from the water front were the Eastport post office and banks, also if the newly launched four-masted auxiliary schooner David Cohen had left her Eastport wharf. Miss Wilson refused to answer and continued walking toward her home. Coming in sight of a farmhouse both strangers disappeared in the direction of Eastport, on the Bay of Fundy.

Overcome with fright, Miss Wilson reached home and told her story. An armed party of Canadian fishermen started on a hunt for the strangers, but nothing was discovered. The entire island was notified along with the Eastport officers.

This is the second time it has been reported that inquiry has been made about the schooner David Cohen, New York owned, and launched July 21.

SHATTUCK AND ATLANTICS ON SATURDAY

The Atlantic and Shattuck are to play a full game of base ball at the Play grounds on Saturday afternoon and it should be well worth seeing. The Shattuck have lost their last two games to the Atlantic and they are out for a win if it is possible on Saturday.

The Atlantic team has brought to a point where it is big league stuff and there is doubt if any of the Eastern league teams could get away with a game from them. The Shattuck has a great team and they may spring a few surprises on Saturday. Both teams want the game and the fans will see a fast match.

The game will be called at three o'clock, so that there will be plenty of time after the launching at the Shattuck yard, which takes place at one o'clock.

NAVY YARD GETS BIG BOAT ORDER

Boston, Aug. 23.—Orders were received at the Charlestown navy yard Thursday to build at once 1500 motor boats to be placed on the new ships as fast as they go into commission. The time for completing the work is six months and there is little doubt among the officers that it can be done. It means that four boats must be turned out each working day. The boats are to be 24 feet long.

There is not the slightest doubt that another fuel ship will be built at the yard in addition to the one now on the ways. The officers at the yard have been asked to submit estimates on the job and the work of doing so was started immediately.

The number of civilians now employed at the yard is 10,145, which is the record. In the Spanish War there were about 9000. The former number does not include the enlisted men doing work in the offices, nor does it include the women, of whom there are about 400.

MAY ENLIST FOR SPECIAL SERVICE

Washington, Aug. 22.—Men having special qualifications for service at the headquarters here of the General Staff of the army will be permitted to enlist and the orders suspending enlistments in Army, Navy and Marine Corps have been rescinded to that extent, the War Department announces.

Statistical draftsmen, statisticians, accountants, stenographers, typists, men experienced in the textile industries are desired for service with the statistics branch of the General Staff. Men having deferred classification in the draft or above the present draft age or men within the present draft qualified only for limited or special service are eligible for enlistment, which must be made on direct application.

SEIZE 700 MEN IN DRAFT RAIDS

Portland, Me., Aug. 22.—Between 600 and 700 arrests of draft evaders were made by department of justice agents in raids which started simultaneously in all the cities of Maine at 8 o'clock last night. The men were brought to police headquarters in the various cities and questioned. Most of them will be pressed immediately into service. The raids were carefully planned and every luncheon and policeman was visited by the officers. Exemption boards remained open all night to furnish information in the various towns and cities, and the police will then devote their energies to combing the woods for stragglers.

INJURED BY EXPLOSION OF GASOLINE

(By Associated Press)

An Atlantic Port, Aug. 22.—An explosion of 300 gallons of gasoline on the fishing schooner Gertrude De Costa, badly wrecked the schooner and seriously injured two of the crew and shattered other men. William White was in the cabin when the explosion occurred and he is now in the hospital in a serious condition. The Engineer Leo Busby was knocked unconscious for two hours but came out of it apparently alright. The schooner had just taken on the gasoline and the engineer smelling the gas rushed to the cabin to extinguish the lamp, when the explosion took place.

THREE GROCERS UP AGAINST IT

Concord, August 22.—Three grocers charged with violations of the food administration regulations appeared before Administrator Hunley N. Spaulding yesterday.

Eugene Casselle of Gouls, was charged with selling flour to his customers without delivering at the same time the proper amount of substitutes. The Rochester Provision and Fruit Company of 7 Signal street, Rochester, was alleged to have sold sugar in unrestricted quantities. Both of these grocers were found guilty and given their choice of voluntarily accepting a penalty which consisted of cutting off their future supply of sugar or of having all their supplies cut off by the licensed wholesalers. The grocers chose to go out of the sugar business and their present stores of sugar will be confiscated and no more certificates for the purchase of sugar will be issued to them. Emilio Pigeon of 108 Wilson street Manchester, answered to the charge of advertising sugar and selling to his customers a month's supply at one time. Mr. Pigeon made Food Administrator Spaulding believe that he intended to provide the most equitable distribution possible and that he misunderstood the ruling calling for the sale of sugar in five and ten pound quantities. The grocer was, therefore, excused with a severe reprimand.

Are you a wife who is proud of her husband's fatal attraction for women? Or are you the husband in the case? In either event, you should go to see "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," the screamingly funny farce comedy which A. H. Woods is presenting at the Park Square Theatre, Boston, for a limited engagement. "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" is described as a fresh, flippant, farcical frolic in three acts by G. W. Bell and Mark Swan and has the rare distinction of having scored sensational hits in Chicago and New York in the same season; on the occasion of its first presentation in both cities.

"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" contains one of the most ingenious plots ever embodied in a comedy. As much of it as has been divulged concerns the adventures of an innocuous young husband who is compelled to live up to his wife's conception of him as a gay Lothario. Modest and innocent as he is, she still believes him irresistible to women, and glories in his imaginary past. To sustain the illusion he proceeds to pose as a daredevil, and quite unwittingly becomes involved in a desperate situation in a private suite in a lonely wayside inn. A carnival of laughter follows in the wake of his predicament, and a wealth of hilariously amusing lines and situations. A. H. Woods has cast the play in his usual lavish manner, the notable company being headed by Florence Moore and includes John Arthur, James Spotswood, Tommy Meade, Nick Judels, Dorothy Brenner, Grace Fielding, Carolyn Latta and others. The usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees are given and strict attention is paid to all mail orders when accompanied by a self-addressed stamped envelope. The scale of prices for all performances (excepting Wednesday matinees) range from 50 cents to 12.50.

FIND HUTZ HAS HUN DECORATIONS

Boston, Aug. 22.—Four decorations from the German government were found in the belongings of Dr. Rudolph Hutz, a chemist of this city, who was taken into custody at his summer home in Meredith, N. H., yesterday, charged with violating the espionage act and the trading with the enemy act, according to federal authorities last night. Two of these decorations, it was stated, were also worn by the German emperor in a large photograph found among the possessions of Dr. Hutz.

ON A WILD HUNT FOR THE LIGHTS

Proved to Be Campfire of Boy Scouts on Agamenticus

Secret service men or special agents of the department of justice never fail to investigate any case brought to their attention but it will be seen that many times get a lot of hard work for nothing.

A short time ago the government men from this city put in a wild night following up a similar case of that reported on Mt. Washington.

The report came from a lighthouse keeper on the Maine coast, that lights were flashing on Mt. Agamenticus and could be plainly seen on the coast. The secret men started at once for the scene and were nearly the whole night getting to and up the mountain to see what was going on.

They found that the lights came from a campfire on the mountain where several Boy Scouts from Somersworth were located. The boys taken by surprise were more or less frightened when the officers appeared but no explanation was hardly necessary. The investigation showed that both the lighthouse man and the secret service officers were on the job and taking no chances.

Oil Heaters

We shall soon have very cool evenings and perhaps a little time in the morning when it will be chilly but when we shall not want a fire in the heater. Have you ever tried running an oil heater at these times? They are most satisfactory and give out a great amount of heat at comparatively small expense, an item which appeals just now.

They are especially pleasing in the chamber, in fact it is difficult to say where they are the most useful. We are asked to be saving of fuel and surely there is no way in which we can comply with this request more easily than by using the oil heater. We have several styles from which to choose.

MEASURES TO CHECK DIARRHEA OUTBREAK

Recommended by the Health Department.

During the past week, numerous cases of diarrhea have occurred in this city and vicinity. Reports of similar outbreaks in nearby cities have been received. Many of the cases have been rather mild, lasting only a day or two. Both children and adults have been affected and some cases have been severe with blood and mucus in the stools. These attacks have been attributed by some to errors or indiscretion in diet, hot weather, etc.

The laboratory at City hall has disclosed the fact that there is evidence of undue pollution in the city water supply. A hurried survey of this supply was made yesterday in company with Superintendent Cullen and samples taken of all sources. The Concord Spring and Fountain Head supplies were discontinued.

It is a well-recognized fact that contaminated water supplies frequently give rise to outbreaks of diarrhea and dysentery as well as typhoid fever. Because of the laboratory findings the health department strongly recommends and urges that all water used for drinking purposes be previously boiled at least five minutes until the relation of the water supply to the outbreak can be definitely determined. Dysentery and summer diarrhea are transmitted in the same manner that typhoid fever is spread. Overcrowding, lack of personal cleanliness and general unsanitary conditions favor their spread.

To avoid contracting these afflictions, two things are essential, rigid personal cleanliness and the boiling of all water and the thorough cooking of all food that is eaten. Places should be destroyed and prevented from coming in contact with food or persons suffering with the disease. Special attention should be given to diet and general physical conditions. Cases should be treated with the same care as typhoid fever and all cases of suspicious typhoid fever should be reported immediately to the health department.
